Supplement 5: Impact of Foreign Currency Exchange on Operating Income Impact of Translation and Transaction

FY2016 results of the impact of foreign currency exchange (operating income)

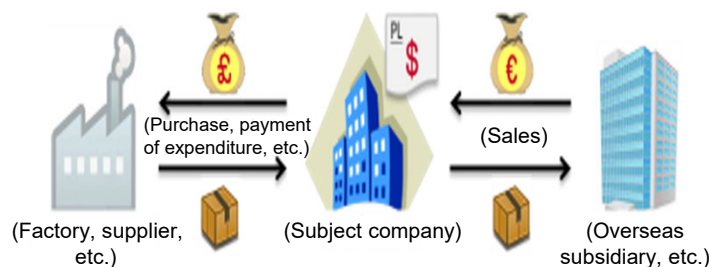

- Impact of foreign currency exchange on profit/loss (PL) generates mainly from the following two factors.

Pattern (1): Generated at the time of translation from PL of a consolidated subsidiary/branch to the PL of the subject company

→ Generated where the currency used for creating PL differs between the subject company and its consolidated subsidiary, etc.

Pattern (2): Generated from a transaction itself (sales/ purchase/ payment of expenditure)

→ Generated where the currency used for the transaction differs from the currency used for creating PL (local currency)
