Comments :

It is a great honor to receive the JSID's Fellowship Shiseido Research Grant 2020. I have been researching the blistering mechanism in pemphigoid diseases using cell culture system. During these process another interest are coming to my mind. In this research grant, I would like to focus on the tight junction barrier formation in stratified epithelium. This is a totally different theme for me, and might be a quite challenging one. I am really happy to be able to proceed this project with the support of Shiseido, and the selection committee.

It's a great honor to receive JSID's Fellowship Shiseido Research Grant 2020 . I plan to elucidate the mechanism on how epigenetic dynamics regulates transcriptional network in the development of skin inflammatory diseases. I appreciate the financial support by Shiseido and also thank everyone who have been engaged in the election process.
